

“Two roads diverged in a wood, and I – I took the one less traveled by, And that has made all the difference.”

In 1916, American poet Robert Frost wrote his famous tribute to people who follow their own path in life, even if that path is unconventional or unpopular. In this month’s newsletter, we introduce you to several individuals who, like Frost’s hero, choose paths “less traveled by.” Unlike many Bulgarians who leave their country in search of a better life, Martin, Evgeny, Margarita, and the rest took the road of return in order to help make life a little better here, for themselves and for others.
