

Dear Friends,

Rule of law and transparent and accountable public institutions are essential contributors to the development of a healthy private sector and the growth of foreign direct investment.

For Bulgaria's citizens and businesses to thrive, the court system and law enforcement authorities must fairly and consistently apply the laws, and government use of taxpayer money must be transparent and accountable.

Journalists and civil society groups are indispensable in this effort as they keep a check on the work of public institutions and advocate for quality public services and greater integrity in government.

Today, December 9, International Anti-Corruption Day, we salute those working to counter corruption and increase transparency and accountability in public life, thereby improving life for all in Bulgaria.

Nancy Schiller
President & CEO
America for Bulgaria Foundation

They Said No to Corruption, and So Can You!

Refusing to engage in it, bearing witness to it, or actively joining the fight against its myriad manifestations—there are many ways to stand up to corruption.

Keep Reading

Don't Miss the Inaugural Edition of the Red Line Awards

ВРЪЧВАНЕ НА
ЧЕРВЕНА
ЛИНИЯ НАГРАДИ ЗА ЖУРНАЛИСТИКА
СРЕЩУ КОРУПЦИЯТА

Онлайн събитие. На живо във Facebook профила на АКФ

9 декември 2020, 11:00 часа Международен ден за борба с корупцията

On December 9, International Anti-Corruption Day, the Anti-Corruption Fund (ACF) will present its first Red Line Awards: Journalism Against Corruption, launched with support from the America for Bulgaria Foundation and the US Embassy in Bulgaria.

The event will stream live online at 11am EET on December 9.

Visit the event page on Facebook

Spread the good

Please share our content with your friends if you like it. Thank you!

Share Share

